If the legal description refers to the property as a condominium or planned unit development (pud) a HOA letter is required

HOA CONDO/PUD FORM

If the legal description references a subdivision please see the list of registered subdivision if any scope of the work is exterior.

If the subdivision is registered an HOA notification form is required for any exterior work, you must verify the physical signature in the HOA book of authorized signers. The list of authorized signers is available online however you must verify a matching signature to accept the documents.
